Hello Alexander,
How are you today?

It was a pleasure to have you speaking at our workshop on the 26th of June 2014 in Bengaluru. I must say that the participants truly loved your presentation. In our post event activities, we learned that your presentation was rated 4.3 (out of 5) which is an excellent score. Some participants even commented on your effortless style of presenting which made them very comfortable to listen attentively to you.

Your presentation was right on the money and flawless. You made justice to the opening session. We thank you once again and wish you all the best for your future endeavors. We look forward to have you with us on future speaking opportunities.

Best Regards,
